

Hello everyone---

Blessings to you through our Lord, Jesus Christ.

Well---we have done it again! We have stepped out again in faith, believing God to show us His direction and provision. When we stepped out to go to Bible College in FL, we had three tiny children. In fact, Jamin was only 5 months old when we left. Now it was painful and scary, but God really took care of us. There were days that He actually provided food for us because there was none. When we were done with school, God gave us our first church and took care of our young family again. Then we had to step out again into full-time missions when Beth was in her second year of college and Dani and Jamin were teenagers. Again---God took care of us. So that brings us to the here and now. Richard could no longer keep his job and we have known that it was getting time to step out again. I must admit---being older and with health issues----it is quite scary! Who would have thought it would be harder this time since our children are raised! Richard is putting together a traveling schedule to help raise our monthly support base. And he is planning to head to Nigeria, England and Ghana! Ghana is a new and exciting contact. Richard has been asked to come and prepare pastors for an evangelistic outbreak that they are believing God for in the new year! How exciting is that! We have also been contacted by a couple of ministries in Kenya. Things are really being opened up to us, but we must build our support base. If you can help with this---if you can help us contact some churches that are mission minded----please let us know.

This ministry is such a different type of ministry that we are often asked if we are real missionaries. God called us to this unique ministry when we were holding missionary conferences in our churches and these hurting missionaries felt free to open up to us because we were not connected to their organization. We have ministered to many pastors here at home and around the world for that very same reason. But because we are not seen as real missionaries, it has been very hard to raise support. After all----missionaries and pastors are suppose to be "super Christians" and not need any help! That is not true. They are human just like you and me. And we all need a helping hand sometimes. So again---please help us to help keep pastors and missionaries in the places that God has placed them to reach this world for Christ!

Please pray for my mom. She will be having her pace maker replaced on Monday. (July 5) This will be her third one. She has been diagnosed with dementia and between her pace maker battery getting low and this dementia, our trip to TX was very hard on her. Although, she certainly enjoyed dancing with the groom---her grandson! I am praying that this surgery will help get things back on track. As we have mentioned before, we have both of our houses up for sale in the hopes of getting something together. Well, we are now thinking that it will be better for her if we just move up to her home. I think this is something that will need to happen within the next few months, so please pray about all of this with us. I am sure many of you know how hard it is to see these changes in our parents.

Please remember to pray for Mike Hicks, Judy Messina and Pastor Hearst that are battling cancer. Here is a praise for Pastor Hearst though---Richard saw him last week and he is doing well. After his surgery, he says he is feeling better than he has in years. But please continue to pray for him. Remember to pray for little Hailey who has a rough road ahead because of a disease. Tim and Nancy Bell have been on my mind lately. There is nothing new there, just praying for them. Our team in Nigeria is working toward 3 conferences in 3 different parts of the country so please pray for them. Pastor Rich and Eileen Hartman are traveling this week. Pray for our friend, Dawn, for safety and direction. Pray for our friend, Linda, as she seeks God's direction for a situation. Please let us know if you have a prayer request.

God bless you this day!

In His care,

Tammy Weagraff
